1 QUINCY SHORES RESERVATION/WOLLASTON BEACH

Quincy Shore Drive | WollastonBeach.org
 Moswetusset Hummock, 435 East Squantum Street
 Caddy Park, 1244 Quincy Shore Drive

Quincy's largest beach offers 2.5 miles of clean sand, swimming, lifeguards, free parking, a bathhouse, scenic views of the Boston Harbor Islands National Park and a continuous walkway for biking, walking & jogging. Some of the best fried clams in the area can be found at a variety of eateries, as well as hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream and more. There are also two children's playgrounds with picnic areas.

Moswetusset Hummock (1617) was the seat of the Massachusetts Native American sachem, Chickatabot, where he negotiated with the early English settlers. The William R. Caddy Memorial Park and Black's Creek Salt Marsh were used by Native Americans for fishing, shell fishing, and hunting. Colonists harvested salt hay from the marsh and established several tide grist mills around the estuary. Significant for its beauty and for rare Native American artifacts, including 256 stone tools, discovered on site, the park also has informational signage and children's playground equipment.

2 BLUE HILLS RESERVATION

FriendsOfTheBlueHills.org

Stretching over 7,000 acres from Quincy to Dedham, Milton to Randolph, the Blue Hills Reservation provides a green oasis in an urban environment. With its scenic views, varied terrain and 125 miles of trails, it offers year-round enjoyment for the outdoor enthusiast. Sixteen historic structures listed on the National Register tell the fascinating tales of Native Americans, explorers, farmers, quarry workers and inventors. Additionally the Blue Hills Weather Observatory, a National Historic Landmark, sits atop Great Blue Hill, as a crowning feature.

6 MARINA BAY

300 Victory Road

With its Nantucket style boardwalk, trendy restaurants, traditional New England style outdoor dining, breathtaking views of the Boston skyline, and the largest marina on the east coast, Marina Bay has become the Boston area's premier world class waterfront dining and entertainment destination all year round.

3 QUINCY QUARRIES RESERVATION

Ricciuti Drive

America's large scale granite quarrying industry was born here in 1825 when, after an exhaustive search throughout New England, Solomon Willard selected the area as the source of stone for the Bunker Hill Monument. View the remains of America's first commercial railway, walk through the quarries, many of which have been filled in, rock climb, hike, golf, have a picnic or just take in the gorgeous scenery of the largest open space within 35 miles of Boston.
